

IMAGING ARRAY AND METHODS FOR FABRICATING SAME

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE:

A radiation detector includes a first array including a first photon incident surface, a second array including a second photon incident surface, and a scintillator array extending from the first photon incident surface to the second photon incident surface. The second detector offsets from the first detector by approximately one-half detector pitch normal to an incident x-ray direction.